Notice and Demand

Affiant hereby demands:

- Immediate cessation of all forfeiture proceedings tied to Case No. CR 2024 06 0909.

- Full forensic accounting and disclosure of all bonds, sureties, and estate instruments created under the name William-Charles; Dunn.

AFFIDAVIT OF TUTORSHIP

(Regarding the Estate and Protection of William-Charles; Dunn)

Affiant: Lindsey-Morgan; Taylor, Non-Domestic, Trustee and Tutor, Vested Villein Private Banking

Responding To: Notification to Surety of Adjudication Hearing, Case No. CR 2024 06 0909

Affidavit of Facts

1. Affiant is the duly appointed Trustee and Tutor, operating under the authority of Vested Villein Private Banking, vested with responsibility for the protection and administration of estates held in trust, including the estate of William-Charles; Dunn.

2. Affiant testifies that William-Charles; Dunn ("Billy") has, through unlawful detention and custodial assignment, been reduced to a number by the State, a practice designed for financial exploitation, data collection, and systemic control.

3. Affiant further states that the State has applied artificial classifications of "disabled" to William-Charles; Dunn for institutional profit, thereby impairing his liberty, agency, and lawful capacity to administer his own estate.

4. At present, William-Charles; Dunn exists under duress, coercion, and fear for his life, rendering him unable to freely manage or administer his estate.

5. Accordingly, Affiant, Lindsey-Morgan; Taylor, steps forward in the role of Tutor and Trustee, to administer and safeguard the estate of William-Charles; Dunn until such time as he is restored to freedom and full capacity.

6. Affiant asserts that no state agency, officer, or private bonding entity holds superior claim or authority over the estate of William-Charles; Dunn absent his knowing, willing, and intentional consent, which is hereby rebutted and denied.

Declaration of Tutorship & Authority

Affiant declares and notices all concerned parties:

- The estate of William-Charles; Dunn shall not be administered by the State or its agents under color of law, presumption of disability, or forfeiture proceedings.

- All claims of suretyship, bond forfeiture, or presumption of consent are rebutted, null, and void for want of lawful contract.

- Affiant, as Tutor and Trustee, assumes tutorship and administration for the estate of William-Charles; Dunn, vested with lawful, equitable, and divine authority until his capacity is restored.

Prayer for Remedy

Wherefore, Affiant prays and demands:

1. Recognition of this Affidavit of Tutorship as rebuttal to any presumption of estate abandonment, incompetence, or forfeiture.

2. Dismissal of all proceedings against the estate of William-Charles; Dunn founded upon coerced surety or forfeiture.

3. Restoration of all estate rights, liberties, and properties unlawfully seized.

4. Acknowledgement of Affiant's lawful standing as Tutor and Trustee until William-Charles; Dunn is restored to capacity.

AFFIDAVIT OF EXTORTION AND VIOLATION OF CUSTOMARY LAW

(Against Duke Energy)

Affiant: Lindsey-Morgan; Taylor, Non-Domestic, Tutor/Trustee, Volunteer, Vested Villein Private Banking

Affidavit of Facts

1. Affiant testifies that Duke Energy has engaged in ongoing acts of extortion by demanding payment in fiat currency under threat of termination of electric service, despite having received lawful notices and opportunities to cure.

2. Duke Energy has refused lawful tender and has demanded settlement in specific fiat forms, contrary to commercial law, fiduciary obligation, and the Uniform Depository Agreement.

3. This constitutes extortion and coercion, as electricity is a basic necessity and is derived from natural resources that belong to the people, not private monopolies.

4. Furthermore, Duke Energy has engaged in concealed profiteering by leveraging securities, smart meters, and customer accounts as investment vehicles, deriving profit streams while compelling households to pay under threat of loss of essential service.

5. While Duke Energy has profited through such securities and market investments, Affiant and household have received no dividends or returns on their involuntary participation, while being simultaneously extorted for fiat currency.

6. Under the Law of Customs, access to basic utilities such as energy is a right held in common trust. To extort, restrict, or condition energy access upon payment of unlawful fiat tribute is a violation of customary stewardship and community obligation.

7. Any agency or actor engaged in such extortion, or complicit in supporting such practices, is thereby unfit to administer or access the common/general stock of public energy supply.

Declaration of Extortion

Affiant declares and notices all concerned parties:

- That Duke Energy has committed extortion in commerce and breach of customary law.

- That such extortion is compounded by profiteering from involuntary securities and customer accounts, constituting unjust enrichment.

- That this unlawful practice nullifies Duke Energy's standing to administer the public energy supply in good faith.

Prayer for Remedy

Wherefore, Affiant prays and demands:

1. Immediate cessation of all extortionate demands upon the household of Affiant and upon William-Charles; Dunn.

2. Full forensic accounting of all profits derived from securities, smart meters, and derivative investments tied to customer accounts.

3. Investigation into Duke Energy for systemic extortion and violation of the Law of Customs.

4. Prohibition against Duke Energy, or any actor complicit in such extortion, from administering or accessing the common/general stock of energy supply.

AFFIDAVIT OF EXTORTION AND VIOLATION OF CUSTOMARY LAW

(Against Duke Energy)

Affiant: Lindsey-Morgan; Taylor, Non-Domestic, Tutor/Trustee, Volunteer, Vested Villein Private Banking

Affidavit of Facts

1. Affiant testifies that Duke Energy has engaged in ongoing acts of extortion by demanding payment in fiat currency under threat of termination of electric service, despite having received lawful notices and opportunities to cure.

2. Duke Energy has refused lawful tender and has demanded settlement in specific fiat forms, contrary to commercial law, fiduciary obligation, and the Uniform Depository Agreement.

3. This constitutes extortion and coercion, as electricity is a basic necessity and is derived from natural resources that belong to the people, not private monopolies.

4. Furthermore, Duke Energy has engaged in concealed profiteering by leveraging securities, smart meters, and customer accounts as investment vehicles, deriving profit streams while compelling households to pay under threat of loss of essential service.

5. While Duke Energy has profited through such securities and market investments, Affiant and household have received no dividends or returns on their involuntary participation, while being simultaneously extorted for fiat currency.

6. Under the Law of Customs, access to basic utilities such as energy is a right held in common trust. To extort, restrict, or condition energy access upon payment of unlawful fiat tribute is a violation of customary stewardship and community obligation.

7. Any agency or actor engaged in such extortion, or complicit in supporting such practices, is thereby unfit to administer or access the common/general stock of public energy supply.

Declaration of Extortion

Affiant declares and notices all concerned parties:

- That Duke Energy has committed extortion in commerce and breach of customary law.

- That such extortion is compounded by profiteering from involuntary securities and customer accounts, constituting unjust enrichment.

- That this unlawful practice nullifies Duke Energy's standing to administer the public energy supply in good faith.

Prayer for Remedy

Wherefore, Affiant prays and demands:

1. Immediate cessation of all extortionate demands upon the household of Affiant and upon William-Charles; Dunn.

2. Full forensic accounting of all profits derived from securities, smart meters, and derivative investments tied to customer accounts.

3. Investigation into Duke Energy for systemic extortion and violation of the Law of Customs.

4. Prohibition against Duke Energy, or any actor complicit in such extortion, from administering or accessing the common/general stock of energy supply.
